

Launch brief: Copperline 2.14

Marketing, September 2026

Copperline 2.14 ships usage-based billing for hotels and venues that charge by room-night. The release lands on Tuesday the 15th, behind a 25 percent rollout that widens each morning if the checkout latency regression stays fixed.

Audience. Operators on the Growth plan who already run seasonal pricing. Harbor House and Larkspur Hotels have used the beta since July and both agreed to be quoted.

Message. One invoice per stay, whatever the stay was made of. Room nights, minibar, late checkout: all on the same line items, all in the same renewal.

Channels. Launch post on the blog, a changelog entry, and the monthly email. No paid campaign this cycle; the renewals push in October takes that budget.

Open questions. Whether the pricing page mentions the per-night cap before legal signs off, and who owns the Larkspur case study.
